

CHURCH WINDOW TO BE REDEDICATED

Will Be Marked By Special Services at Trinity Tomorrow

RESET AT COST OF $1500

Rev. Dr. Collier of American University and Wm. Knowles Cooper to Speak at Night Services

With special services tomorrow morning and evening the large window in the front of Trinity M. E.
Church will be dedicated. This window recently was reset at a cost of $1,500.
The program will open with an address to the members of the Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. D.
H. Martin, pastor.

At the 11 o'clock service Rev.
Frank W. Collier, Ph. D., S. T. D., of the American University, Washington, will preach.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening William Knowles Cooper, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will deliver an address. Both of these speakers are widely known because of their educational and evangelistic work. At both morning and evening services the choir will render special music consisting of anthems and vocal and instrumental solos. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The church has issued a beautiful program of the order of exercises which contains half tone illustrations of the exterior and interior of the edifice the latter showing the handsome pipe organ.

Historical Sketch
Methodism began in Alexandria, Va. in 1774, or two years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Thus we see that Methodism in Alexandria is older than the United States Government. The Methodist historian, Stevens, says: "In the year 1774 John Littlejohn was one of twelve Methodists who formed the first society in Alexandria on the Potomac." Alexandria first appeared in the Conference Minutes in 1791, with Ezekiel Cooper as preacher. William Waters, the first native itinerant Methodist preacher, was once pastor of the Alexandria church. At his death he left the parsonage the following items: John Wesley's print, books and book case, bed quilt, bolsters and pillows, one silver ladle, six table spoons, one tea spoon and eight day clock. The clock was presented to Goucher College in 1880, where it may now be seen. Bishop Beverly Waugh and Bishop A. W. Wilson began their ministry in this church.
George G. Cockman, chaplain of the U. S. Senate in 1839, and who lost his life when the ill-fated steamer "President" went down, was pastor at the time of his death.

This church is the mother of three other churches in Alexandria, the M.
E. Church South, the Methodist Protestant and the Free Methodist. The first edifice in which this congregation worshipped was located on South Royal street. The second structure was built in 1803 in which building the congregation now worships. Alterations were made in 1884 giving the church its present form. In recent years extensive improvements, including the installation of the beautiful pipe organ, have been made at a cost of several thousand dollars.
The occasion of this present program is the re-dedication of the large window in the front of the church which has been reset in a new frame at an expense of $1,500.

This church has always been known as an evangelistic church. In 1803 Bishop Asbury held a revival here and 350 people were converted. Thousands have found salvation at the altar of this old church, and today the good work continues with renewed interest.

Men Only. The Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon at the Richmond Theatre at three o'clock is for men only and will be addressed by William Knowles Cooper, of Washington, subject, "Make America a Christian Nation."

BRING YOUR BABIES

Prizes to be Awarded for Best Looking Kids Tuesday

The Baby Show for the X-Ray for the hospital bids fair to be a great success and the committee is determined to make this a most unique entertainment. As before stated the judges are to be Drs. Powell and Rider and Mrs. Harold Mowat, of Infants Welfare Work in Washington.

All babies entered for the contest will be numbered as they are entered, thereby ensuring an absolutely impartial awarding of prizes. The committee has decided to allow babies up to five years to compete and there will be seven prizes in all.

Come and bring your babies, and if you are unfortunate enough to have no babies of your own, come and see Alexandria's finest babies in gathering.

Afternoon Tea will be served, and there will be a table of attractive fancy articles for babies for sale.
The show will be held in the Young Peoples' Building at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

WORKING TO IMPROVE MAN- KIND

The success of the fourth biennial convention of International Federation of Catholic Alumnae which was brought to a close in Boston on October twelfth, is convincing proof that the graduates of Catholic institutions of learning are bearing their share of the world's problems.
The Catholic women, represented by about seven hundred officers, delegates and visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada, are working in many ways to encourage wholesome literature, to combat the divorce evil, and the evil of the present day dress and dance; to improve the tone of the modern theatre, to help the blind, to encourage art and music and to multiply existing opportunities for the higher training of women under religious auspices, for they realize that education is not true education unless it embraces God's place in the life of man.

During the banquet which was served at the Hotel Somerset, the assembly was welcomed to Boston by his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell who, in the course of his remarks, said: "The nation and the church are both longing for leaders, men and women who will stand and take a big part in life with its burdens, its sufferings, its criticisms, and its sacrifices and who will do it nobly and do it for God."
The interest of his Holiness Benedict XV in the work of the federation was testified by the receipt of the following telegram:
"His Eminence William Cardinal
O'Connell Archbishop of Boston.
The Holy Father with great pleasure sends to the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae the apostolic blessing and his most cordial best wishes for progress and success."

Signed,
Cardinal Gaspari,
Sec. State to His Holiness Benedict
XV.

The voluntary fund subscribed by the Federation to help Cardinal Mercier in rebuilding his cathedral at Malines was announced by Mrs. H.
M. Benzinger its international chairman as having reached a sum that has reached its pre-war value approximately $23,328. Virginia was one of the States that received a gold starred banner for having subscribed its full quota for the Cardinal Mercier Fund.

Among the resolutions passed was one which urged Catholic women to exercise the right of suffrage and to prepare themselves in every way to vote intelligently on municipal, state and national issues.

The International Federation has a membership of over 35,000 representing fifty religious orders and 266 schools.

Those attending the convention from Alexandria were Miss Ella Hill, delegata, Miss Lillian Hill, Sister Antoine, Sister Bertilde.

"Make America a Christian Nation." William Knowles Cooper will make a plea for this at the Richmond Theatre Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ENVOY BALKS AT GERMAN NOMINATION

Delegates Urge Admission to League But Refuse to Act

TEUTONS PROTEST

Claim Council Does Not Possess Requisite Power Gives Labor's Views—Will Not Nominate

Paris, Nov. 20.—The Petit Paris-ien reports from Geneva that one of the thorniest questions is that of disarmament, which was considered in camera yesterday afternoon by the sixth commission.

"On the sea rivalry between England and the United States gives an indication of a practically unlimited increase of fleets. The American Navy is building six super-dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers.

"The British Admiralty has not yet replied to this program, but the fact it scraps or sells the greater part of its fleet shows its intention of building another, capable of springassing American squadron.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—Mandates, open diplomacy and the admission of former enemy states to the League of Nations furnished today's material for discussion in the Assembly of the League of Nations. For the first time the word "revision" was pronounced in connection with Article 18 of the covenant of the League, which provides for the resignation of treaties or international engagements. For the first time also the viewpoint of labor as regards the League was presented.

The views of labor were presented by George Nicoll Barnes, of the British delegation, who gained applause when he declared that "a general peace is impossible until we have industrial peace, and industrial peace is impossible until labor gets its full share of the product of its own effort."

Twice again the admission of former enemy states into the League was advocated. Labor was quoted by Mr. Barnes as in a large majority demanding it. There now have been represented in the demands for the admission of the former enemy states South Africa, Great Britain, Switzerland, Argentina, and Scandinavia. It still appears, however, that no one of the delegation is ready to take the initiative in proposing the election of Germany to membership.

Lord Robert Cecil, of the British delegation, has said that he will not do so, and Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, who has spoken strongly in favor of Germany coming in, declares that he will not nominate her. Neither will the Dutch and Swedish delegations, which are supposed to be Germany's strongest supporters propose her admission to the League, notwithstanding the fact that sentiment favorable to her membership crops out in every debate.

A protest by Germany against the manner of the distribution of mandates for her colonies today created a marked impression in the assembly, particularly on account of the fact that it was addressed to the assembly instead of the Council of the League of Nations. Germany consistently has maintained the attitude that the council of the League does not possess sufficient authority to deal with such questions, since a majority of its representatives form a group of former belligerents and that the assembly alone is representative of the entire League and, therefore, competent to deal with the question.

The note declares that the Allies have not fulfilled their undertakings regarding the clause of the treaty concerning the allotment of the German colonies and mandates. It adds that, having signed the pact of the League of Nations Germany understood she would be admitted to the League and consequently take part in the allotment of mandates, but that now she no longer considers herself bound by that clause of the treaty.

Wanted, 1,000 men. To hear William Knowles Cooper at the Richmond Theatre Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GEORGIE M. MORSE GLIDES FROM WAYS

Tenth Ship of Va. Ship Company Successfully Launched

BIG CROWD PRESENT

Mrs. Georgie M. Morse in Whose Honor Freighter is Named Smashes Bottle of Wine Over Nose of Ship

Without a hitch the 9,400 ton steel freighter Georgie M. Morse was launched at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation.

Mrs. Georgie M. Morse, wife of E.
A. Morse, president of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, was sponsor and she smashed a bottle of wine over the nose of the vessel as she glided from the ways.

Just as the ship left her berth the siren let loose and the Citizens' Band, which band was stationed on the adjoining way, played lively airs.
Mrs. Morse carried a huge bou-quet of American beauty roses and tied with red ribbon. The bottle containing the wine was decorated with red, white and blue ribbon.

It was a spring day and the vessel as she left the ways with her colors flying, presented a pretty picture.
Charles W. Morse, president of the United States Steamship Company and vice president of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, and other officials including E. W. Morse president of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, witnessed the launching.

The Georgie M. Morse will be completed and ready for service about January 15. This is the tenth ship launched at this company's plant.

The last ship launched at this plant was the Collier H. L. Johnston, which shortly will sail for Genoa, Italy, with a cargo of coal from Baltimore. She was launched June 25.

Harvest Festival

Attendance at Lyceum Affair Increases Nightly

The attendance record of the third night of the autumn festival of St.
Mary's Church being held in the Lyceum Hall last night broke previous records, and the indications point to an even greater attendance every night from now on till the affair comes to an end.

The dinner being served each evening from 6 to 10 o'clock is being liberally patronized and the general business being done at the various booths is reported as very gratifying. An abundance of articles suitable for Christmas gifts, are on sale at the various booths and voices also are being disposed of in many of the larger prizes.

Ladies in charge of the various booths follow: Fancy work, Mrs.
O'Sullivan, candy, flowers, etc., Mrs.
Rowland; children's clothes, Mrs.
Koop; ice cream and cake, Mrs.
Latham; supper table, Mrs. Sampson.

Near the entrance to the bazaar room there is a chance for someone to knock H. C. L., a death blow, by winning a large live turkey for ten cents, although they are selling at 75 cents per pound. This will be awarded on Wednesday, November 24, the closing night, and just in time for the Thanksgiving dinner.

FRANCE AND THE LEAGUE

If the document offered as a semi-official statement of France's attitude toward the League be authentic, the distrust with which the French Foreign Office contemplates Geneva is due in great part to the refusal of the United States to join the League. But it is also a reflection of Clemenceau's objections to the League and his preference for the old policy of the balance of power. That balance had been in unstable equilibrium, and had not averted war. The President went to Paris primarily to replace the balance of power with the League of Nations. In spite of much difficulty, he carried his point with the conference.

But France is in a state of nerves whenever Germany is mentioned. It was denied the Rhine as a boundary, and the defensive treaties with America and Great Britain have failed because the peace treaty failed here. France is looking for an ally, but it is very doubtful if it can find one. If France were attacked we doubt not England would offer assistance; it is doubtful if Italy would, now that Italy's freedom has been redeemed and a good deal of the Eastern Adriatic coast has been acquired. The memorandum said to represent the views of the French Foreign Office says:

The reserve France observes at Geneva is largely because she waits for the decision of the new American Government. The future of the League depends entirely upon Washington. Without America the League will be reduced to a simple judicial mechanism to execute the treaties of 1919. It will lose all political and moral value.

This is an overstatement of the significance of our position. Without the United States the League is greatly reduced in its moral and physical force, but it is not rendered useless. Furthermore—and the French Foreign Office should understand this—the League is the only protection France is likely to get, and France alone cannot stand up against a resuscitated Germany, of which it is greatly afraid—probably unduly afraid.

The United States is not in the least likely to make a treaty of defense with France since the Republic has been able to win the referendum on the League. England will not make a treaty of defense with France if America does not. Italy's interests are so little those of France that for many years the relations between the two countries were strained, and war was not improbable. The only common interest of the two nations was that when France was at war with Austria, Italy saw its chance to wrest Italy from Austria and displace Austrian influence in the Balkans.

France has not much more than two-thirds the population of Germany, and it cannot be certain of an alliance. It had better do all it can to make the League of Nations strong and effective. The League would be rather more effective than less so if Germany were admitted. The League offers France the only support that it can count on with any confidence.

SPORTS

One of the largest crowds of the season will witness Alexandria's biggest football game of the season at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when the Camp Humphrey Officer's team composed of former West Point stars will come here with their boast that they will defeat the local clubmen by at least two touchdowns. The Dreadnaughts are not taking this boast with as much confidence as the public would think, they know well that the soldiers will bring one of the strongest teams that has visited this city during the season.

One of the main attractions will be Lieut. Vidal, the all-American half-back with his running mate Burns, of Notre Dame. This pair scored 20 points against Galludet College last Saturday. The Big D are practicing every night at the Armory Hall and will be ready to hold up the good name they hold in every sport.

This team has been brought here at considerable expense and we make a special request that the fans donate as liberal as possible at the gate. We want to give Alexandria the best game possible and this cannot be accomplished without good guarantees to visiting teams. We could bring such teams as Rex and Navy Yard here if the people will back us in the right way but we can not give $200 and $300 guarantees on what we get at the gate. Why is it that Alexandria public will not contribute to athletic teams that stand with the best records of any in the country we do not know. It costs $30.00 to equip each man on the field in a full uniform and these have not been paid for as yet. Show us that you appreciate us and we will do the rest.

Mr. Hackett, associate editor of the New Republic, said that magistrates and civil police had resigned "in shoals" and that the people generally were submitting their civil and other controversies to the Republican courts. Barring only the nominal authority of Dublin Castle, he said, there would be little British dominion in Ireland except that of the military forces.

SIXTEEN DROWNED

WHEN BOAT BURNS
Bangor, Maine, Nov. 20.—Sixteen workmen were drowned in Chesuncook Lake, in the heart of the lumbering district, late yesterday when a motor boat took fire. Two men were being taken across the lake from Chesuncook Lake to Cuxabe.

Efforts to quench the fire failing, the party became panic stricken and many leaped overboard. The icy water soon engulfed those who tried to escape by swimming.

About half the crew clung to the side of the craft until it was blown shoreward by the strong wind. Seventeen men are believed to have been saved, some in a serious condition from exposure.

Chesuncook Lake lies in a district that is famous as a hunting and fishing ground. It is 30 miles north of Moose Head Lake.

POLICE KILL ROBBER

TWO PAIS CAPTURED
Roanoke, Va., Nov. 20.—Following a thrilling battle early yesterday morning between Roanoke police and a trio of robbers who looted the bank at Glasgow, 40 miles from here, one of the robbers was killed, two taken prisoners, and approximately $150,000 in stolen Liberty bonds, money

AN ALEXANDRIA INTERVIEW

Mrs. Nalls Tells Her Experience.
The following brief account of an interview with an Alexandria woman four years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. L. C. Nalls, 911 Duke St., Alexandria, says: "I could hardly get around the house my back was so weak and sore, and when I got down it was almost impossible to straighten up again. I couldn't rest at night and mornings I felt so weak and tired all over it was all I could do to dress. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused me a great deal of misery. My head ached a great deal; it was a dull, steady pain. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Summer's Drug Store and the first box did me so much good I used another. My back stopped aching and my kidneys haven't caused me any trouble since."

Mrs. Nalls gave the above statement on April 10, 1915 and on March 15, 1919 she added: "I was pretty bad off with kidney trouble and nothing helped me the way Doan's Kidney Pills did. Doan's are the best kidney remedy I know of."

ALLAN DWAN presents
The FORBIDDEN THING
By Mary Mears
Personally directed by Mr. Dwan
The story of an all-conquering love Monday - Tuesday

and jewelry recovered.

The dear man is James Rodgers, 224 West Johnson Street, Philadelphia. Patrolman O. L. Hendrix, of Roanoke was slightly wounded.

The police here received a phone message early this morning that the Glasgow bank had been looted by three men and that the trio had escaped in an automobile and were heading toward this city. A detail of police men, in an automobile, was dispatched in the direction of the road to Glasgow in less than an hour after the message came and met three men speeding toward them.

The robbers opened fire when called upon to halt, wounding Hendrix and the policemen replied with a volley, killing Rodgers. The other two surrendered.

The police brought the men to jail here with the stolen bonds and money and also took charge of the big touring car in which they were making their escape.

The men under arrest gave their names as Charles Carter, 38 years old, Cincinnati, and William Porter, 47 years old, Washington.

With telegrams from all over the country coming into the office of Chief of Police W. J. Rigney, evidence in the case is checking up in a manner and with such completeness that it is pointed out as one of the thousand by the local police.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Rodgers, of Waterbury, Conn., claim that the slain man is their son. Information that Rodgers was in Nashville, Tenn., between September 4 and 14, when five stores were robbed of Liberty bonds checks with the established facts that Rodgers secured a Tennessee automobile license in that city September 13. The man was identified by W. T. Loving, of Winston-Salem, N. C., and a statement was made by Mr. Loving that one of the men in jail, who calls himself Carter, was seen by him at Stoneville, N. C., shortly before that bank was robbed, posing as a tobacco auctioneer.

B. Estis Vaughan, president of the Glasgow Bank, arrived in the city this afternoon and went immediately to the office of the Chief of Police. He was accompanied by R. G. Baldwin, vice president of the bank. E. Echols, one of the stockholders, who himself had $30,000 in bonds among those taken from the bank, accompanied him.

Upon close examination of the body of Rodgers in Oakney's undertakings establishment here about $250 in bills were found pinned on the inner side of his undershirt. The shot which struck Rodgers at the base of the brain was fired by Officer Charles Robertson, of the local police department, 278-4th.

Officer Hendrix, who was shot in the right leg, was removed to a local hospital, where he is resting nicely.

Neither of the two men in jail, Porter and Carter, have made any confession and positively refuse to talk concerning the robbery.

(A Good Deal With Aid of Canes)Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson is again walking a good deal, and this has raised the possibility of his appearing before Congress next month and reading his message. It was stated positively today however, that such a dramatic spectacle as his appearance in a wheel chair will not come to pass.It was officially stated today that, while the President has not yet begun the actual writing of his message, he has "arranged in his mind" the subject matter. The intimation was that the message will be comparatively short.Not only has the President strolled about the White House but during the week has walked to and fro between the house and his automobile.
He has climbed into the car with no assistance other than a cane and in other ways has displayed signs of physical improvement. His condition was described as "wonderful" by one White House official.The steady improvement of the President recently has given rise to the expectation that he surely will be able to attend the Harding inauguration ceremonies at the Capitol

MYSTERY OF HOLD-UP OF MRS. PALMER DEEPER.

New York, Nov. 19.—The newest great jewel mystery, the robbing of Mrs. Charlotte King Palmer in her beautiful home at 89 East Ninetieth street, became more mysterious than ever yesterday.

It was learned this affair of early Tuesday morning was the second robbery within only a fortnight or so of which the vivacious former actress was the victim.

Her summer home at Long Beach was broken into and looted early this month, and there are circumstances which indicate there may be a connection between the jobs.

The Long Beach affair was much less in importance. It was merely $1,000 worth of Scotch whisky (at least it cost $1,000 before prohibition supposedly set in, though now it would be worth ten times that much), which was taken. The episode of Tuesday morning, Mrs. Palmer says, cost her more than $300,000 in jewels. But the first looting may bear an important relation to the second.

Mrs. Palmer yesterday was still unable to receive interviewers, apart from detectives. And the police apparently had made but little headway toward discovering the perpetrators of the spectacular holdup. At all events they did not recover any of the gems Mrs. Palmer said she lost.

On the morning of Monday, November 8, a man's voice called over the telephone to the office of the Guardian Bureau, a private detective agency at 305 Broadway, and said to Frederick Kuhne, a finger print expert: "This is Lieutenant-Commander Phillips, U. S. N. A friend of mine down here in Long Beach has been robbed and we want to see if the thieves left any marks behind."

Mr. Kuhne went to the seaside resort the following day. He said last night: "At the house Mrs. Palmer showed me how someone had climbed upon the porch roof, cut out with some instrument a bit of glass from a window, opened the latch and entered a second floor room. Then she showed me a closet in which she said she had stored $1,000-worth of Scotch."

"After dusting black powder upon its white enamel door I found three well-defined finger prints. I asked her if she suspected anybody. She said: 'Yes, two men, who have been my guests here. But really, I suspect only one of them, for the other knew where the key to the closet was kept and would not have needed to break open the door.' "Then we drove back to Long Beach Station, Mrs. Palmer continuing her talk about the subject of fingerprints. She asked me particularly: "Do not really clever criminals always wear gloves, so as not to leave prints behind them?" I told her: "Yes, sometimes; but generally in the movies, not in real life."

The significance of this conversation at once occurred to Mr. Kuhne, when he read Mrs. Palmer's quoted statement to the effect that all three of the men who trussed up and robbed her of the jewels wore long gray gloves.

A general search was made at the house for fingerprints yesterday by the detectives working on the case.

It is altogether likely that the Police Department prints taken yesterday in the Ninetieth street house will be compared as soon as possible with those on the closet door at Long Beach.

THIEF MISSES $300,000 OF NEGOTIABLE SECURITIES

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—About $150,000 in registered stocks were stolen from the apartment of William E. Richards, a retired banker, at Thirty-fifth street and Powelton avenue, by a thief who overlooked $300,000 worth of negotiable notes and bonds. The robbery is believed to have occurred shortly before six o'clock last evening, about 20 minutes before Mrs. Richards returned from a shopping trip.

The stolen stocks were in a box on a shelf in Mrs. Richards' bedroom. The $300,000 of negotiable notes and bonds were in plain envelopes in the drawer of a writing table.

Mrs. Richards arrived home about 6:10 o'clock last evening, and as she entered a bedroom she noticed several drawers open and their contents strewn about. A morocco box with pearl and platinum studs and several scarves was missing. Mr. Richards reached home a few minutes later. Together they checked up their valuables.
